Taking the European Solidarity Corps forward

«There are many young, socially minded people in Europe willing to make a meaningful contribution to society and help show solidarity. We can create opportunities for them to do so... Solidarity is the glue that keeps our Union together... Young people across the European Union will be able to volunteer their help where it is needed most, to respond to crisis situations... These young people will be able to develop their skills and get not only work but also invaluable human experience.»

European Commission President Jean-Claude Juncker, State of the Union Address, 14 September 2016

of young people in the EU say that they have been involved in an organised voluntary activity in the past 12 months.*

job seekers are looking for work abroad in solidarity-related sectors.**

of young people who have never volunteered abroad, say they have not done so because they did not have the opportunity. Only 6% of young people have volunteered abroad.*

HOW TO JOIN

Interested young people can register with the European Solidarity Corps on europa.eu/solidarity-corps, indicating their preferred type and venue of placement. Once registered, young people can be contacted by interested organisations offering a placement.

Interested organisations (public or private entities or international organisations) can currently access the European Solidarity Corps via a number of EU programmes. With the entry into force of the new legal base, organisations will need to get a quality label first (depending on their profile, either through an Erasmus+ National Agency or through the Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency). With this label they could apply for funding with the same body. Via a dedicated online tool on europa.eu/youth/solidarity/pass authorised organisations can easily search for candidates among the registered young people.
