

*Empowered lives
Resilient nations.*

FROM PARIS TO MARRAKESH AND BEYOND

Sustainable development through the Paris Agreement

Barbara Pesce-Monteiro, UN / UNDP Director

From Paris to Marrakech and beyond

1. The adoption of the historical Paris Agreement marks a new era of global co-operation to address climate change.
2. Concrete steps must be taken now to achieve climate targets.
3. Paris delivered an agreement. Marrakesh must deliver action.
4. Climate Action is development action. Therefore, linkages between climate action and (sustainable) development action must be understood, articulated and integrated in planning; delivering and measuring action.

From Paris to Marrakech and beyond

5. Action on climate change must be inclusive, gender-responsive and must prioritize the poorest and most vulnerable
6. A dual approach to mitigation and adaptation is essential: those already being impacted by climate change must be supported.
7. Continued support to national leadership is essential.
8. Adequate finance is essential.
9. Innovative partnerships are critical

UNDP'S COMMITMENT: A CLIMATE RESILIENT, ZERO-CARBON FUTURE

UNDP'S VISION: ZERO CARBON SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

ZERO-CARBON GROWTH

- Implementing Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs)
- Integrating Zero Carbon Development
- Delivering Sustainable Energy
- Reducing Emissions through Protecting Forests

ADAPTATION AND RESILIENCE

- Strengthening Integrated Adaptation Policies, Plans and Strategies
- Advancing Adaptation Action
- Addressing Climate and Disaster Risks
- Instilling Risk-Informed Disaster Recovery

Strengthened capacities

Catalysing climate finance

Partnerships for development

Social inclusion and gender

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

GOALS

*Empowered lives.
Resilient nations.*

