MOBILISING EU PROGRAMMES

Commission services have defined the first elements of a support framework for the implementation of the New European Bauhaus with a number of pilot actions starting in September 2021. A collective effort will be necessary in the financial dimension, hence at EU level, the combination of several EC financing instruments based on their complementary scope will be the essential element. The financial impact of the proposal related to the EU contribution will be accommodated within the current financial envelopes 2021-2027 of the programmes concerned and within the agreed staff resources.

There will be a need to reinforce the financial support offered by the EU programmes with other local, regional, national funds under shared management to ensure the diffusion of the concept on the ground. Especially the changes in the built environment require a massive funding that can only be achieved by combining all possible sources. The Commission will devote particular attention to the coordination of the different programmes during their deployment.

The support framework can be divided in two components: a first set of calls has been dedicated specifically to the financing of New European Bauhaus projects; a second set of calls has included the New European Bauhaus as a priority or as an element of context, providing opportunities for projects to contribute to the initiative while not focusing exclusively on it.
